de woning

An aerial photograph of a residential neighborhood. The central focus is a cluster of several long, rectangular buildings with red-tiled roofs, arranged in a grid-like pattern around a central green space. To the left, there are more residential buildings, some with grey roofs and others with red roofs, interspersed with green lawns and trees. On the right side, a multi-lane highway runs parallel to the neighborhood, with a dense line of trees between it and the residential area. The overall scene is a mix of urban development and greenery.

The city is characterized by a dense grid of buildings and streets, interspersed with green spaces and several small blue ponds. The surrounding area is dominated by a patchwork of green agricultural fields, with a network of roads and canals crisscrossing the landscape.
